Outdated 160th Anniversary Logo Still Appearing in US Email Signatures

We all love to reminisce on the good times, but Brink's is 164 years old now!

If you have any reference to the 160th anniversary in your email signature, please remove it today. We ask that you kindly remove this logo from your signature. Please see the example to the right that is still appearing in email signatures.

Check the Quick Links section at the end for instructions on how to change your email signature in Microsoft Outlook.

Thank you!

WRN Mental Health Awareness Event - Recording

WRN hosted guest speaker Melissa Doman, MA, (Organizational Psychologist, Former Clinical Mental Health Therapist, and Author), for a candid fireside interview and honest discussion about why mental health is a critical conversation in the workplace.

Check out the recording below, in case you missed it!

Due to technical difficulties, the beginning of the video was not recorded and is only available for view as is.

Thank you for your understanding and support,

Cyber Hacks: Cyber Trip Advisory

In today's world, technology allows us to work from almost anywhere, from the comfort of our own homes or during travel. While this level of flexibility and mobility greatly improves our work-life balance and productivity, it can come with certain risk. Traveling for work can present unique cybersecurity challenges as cyber threats have become increasingly sophisticated.

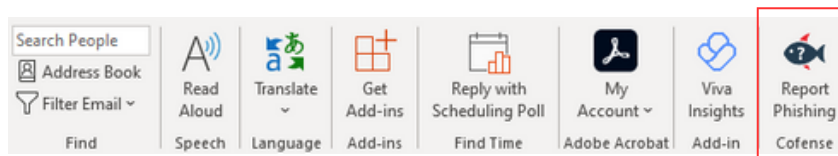

It is important to be aware of best practices for securing your sensitive data, particularly when it comes to accessing public Wi-Fi networks and using unfamiliar devices.

By taking simple precautions and following best practices, individuals can help protect themselves from cyber threats and ensure that their work remains secure no matter where they are working from.

Best Traveling Secure Practices for Work:

1. Use a Virtual Private Network (VPN) when connecting to the Brink's network
2. Avoid using public Wi-Fi
3. Use strong passphrases
4. Keep your software up to date
5. Be cautious of phishing attacks

Received a suspicious email? Immediately report it by clicking the Report Phishing Cofense button located in your Outlook toolbar.
