Cyber Hacks: Beware of Spear Phishing

Spear phishing is an email targeted at a specific individual or department within an organization that appears to be from a trusted source. It's a method used by cybercriminals to attempt to steal confidential information. Attackers disguise themselves as someone their victim trusts, usually a friend or colleague, and attempts to acquire sensitive information.

How to protect yourself from Spear Phishing:

- Security awareness training plays a critical role in defending against spear phishing by learning how to identify and how to report a potential spear phishing email.
- Any message asking for sensitive financial information should be verified even if the sender looks like a legitimate employee or vendor.
- Be suspicious of any message with an urgent tone.
- Avoid oversharing work and personal information on social media.
- Use multi-factor authentication when available.
- Report suspicious emails using the Cofense Report button located in your Outlook toolbar.
